NAUGATUCK TAXES.

Proposed Increase Not Taken Kindly by the Heaviest Taxpayers of the Borough.

The Naugatuck court room was filled with taxpayers Wednesday evening to see what would be done with the petition presented by eighty taxpayers asking that the borough board rescind the vote passed accepting the report of the revaluation commission and requesting the board of assessors to use the report in compiling the grand list for this year. The petition was presented and read by the clerk, after which the warden asked if there were any taxpayers who wanted to be heard in relation to the matter.

As there were no remarks coming, Burgess Hall stated that the board had simply carried out the vote of the freemen when the report of the commission was accepted and he was of the opinion that the only way for any redress was to present the complaints to the board of assessors or the board of relief. He made a motion that the petitioners be given leave to withdraw. The motion was carried.

Burgess Jackson favored bringing the matter before the freemen again. It was noted that the property in the borough was taxed for $19,969,822, and the property owners who signed the petition represented over one-half of this amount, $5,763,750. As the matter stands now, they must wait for the board of assessors are the board of relief to take action.

SEYMOUR FRUIT

Awarded Sweepstakes Prize at New England Fruit Show.

At the big apple show held at Horticultural hall, Boston, which closed Saturday night, Hale and Coleman of Seymour won the grand sweepstakes prize of a silver cup valued at $100 which was offered by the International Apple Shippers' association for the best exhibition of commercial grading and packing, on four barrels and four boxes of Baldwin apples, graded A, A, B and C, according to the United States standard.

The purpose of this prize, which is a duplicate of that offered at the second national apple show at Spokane, Wash., which will be held Nov. 15 to 18, is explained in the following letter written by N. G. Gibson, of the Gibson Fruit company, Chicago, chairman of a special committee appointed by William L. Wagner, president of the Apple Shippers' association, last summer in Buffalo:

"The International Apple Shippers' association is representative of all parts of the continent, and as our officers and members are always working to secure better packing and grading in all parts of the country, our committee thought it advisable to have this cup awarded the way we have decided. It is for the best packing and grading of apples exhibited at the show. It is not so much for its intrinsic value that the winner will prize it, but more from coming from the source it does."

Inscription on Cup.

The cup is inscribed as follows:

Presented to Hale and Coleman by the International Apple Shippers' association for the best commercial packing and grading of apples exhibited at the national apple show, Boston, Mass., October, 1909.

Annual Meeting New Haven Road

Stockholders Authorize Issue of $50,000,000 Additional Stock—Not One Dollar Spent on Lobby Says President Mullen.

New Haven, Oct. 27.—"Not one dollar of the charge for legal expenses in the annual report was expended for lobby work, for use of the so-called third house, or as payments to politicians," was the declaration of President Charles S. Mullen at the annual meeting of the stockholders of New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company today, when he replied to a question of a stockholder as to the reports current in Hartford that the road had maintained a lobby at the last session of the general assembly.

Largest Meeting Held in Some Years.

The meeting was the largest held in some years, practically all the board of directors being present, including J. P. Morgan, who later at a special meeting offered the resolution increasing the capital stock of the company of $50,000,000. The present board of directors was re-elected by unanimous stock vote and the new director added to the board is John L. Billard of Meriden, who takes the place of the late F. W. Cheney.

How Stock Will Be Issued.

The president said the stock would be issued in semi-annual installments at $125 and would bear interest on the par at the same rate as on the dividend. This at the issue price of $125 would pay about 8.4 upon the installment. The vote on the stock issue was 626,357, with none against.

Attention was called to the fact that not only was this practically unanimous, but the total stock vote constituted a clean majority of the stock outstanding.

It was stated by a director of the company in regard to the controversy of the company with the Adams Express company that a conference to adjust the matters in dispute will be held soon. It was also stated that the New Haven corporation as such had no interest present or probable in the new Billard company of Connecticut, and that it was a matter over which Mr. Billard himself had control and effecting his personal interests.

Total Capitalization.

After the meeting it was pointed out that the call for the meeting, published as an advertisement, set forth an issue of four hundred thousand shares, whereas the resolution offered by Mr. Morgan as adopted called for five hundred thousand shares. The total capitalization of the company will be $171,000,000.

At a special meeting of the directors, following the stockholders' meeting, the old officers were re-elected.

NAMES OF DEAD OFFICERS FOR NEW TORPEDO BOATS.

Navy Department Commemorates Memory of Five Naval Heroes.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The memory of five naval heroes was commemorated today by the navy department in giving to the five new torpedo boat destroyers authorized by congress the names of those dead officers. Already the United States has a list of twenty-six heroes after whom torpedo boat destroyers and torpedo boats have been named. To these the department today added the names of the following naval heroes:

Rear Admiral Daniel Ammen, who took a prominent part in the operations along the Atlantic coast during the Civil war, especially in attacks on Port Madsen and Fort Sumter in 1863, while in command of the U. S. S. Patapsco.

Lieutenant John Trippe, who performed distinguished services during the Civil war in the engagements before Tripoli in 1841.

Captain Daniel T. Patterson, who commanded the naval forces in New Orleans in 1814.

Rear Admiral Henry Walke, who performed distinguished services during the Civil war in command of the U. S. S. Carondelet.

Ensign John P. Monaghan, who distinguished himself in an engagement with natives in Samoa in 1899. In endeavoring to remove to the rear Lieutenant Landale, who had been wounded, he himself was killed.

MRS. VAN DE MAN

IN GOVERNMENT AEROPLANE.
First Woman in United States to Go Up in Heavier-Than-Air Machine—Wright's Pupils Master Machine.

College Park, Md., Oct. 27.—With her skirts tied tightly about her ankles to keep them from fluttering in the breeze Mrs. Van De Man, wife of Capt. Ralph De Man, Twenty-first United States infantry, occupied a seat beside Wilbur Wright when he ascended in the government's aeroplane here today.

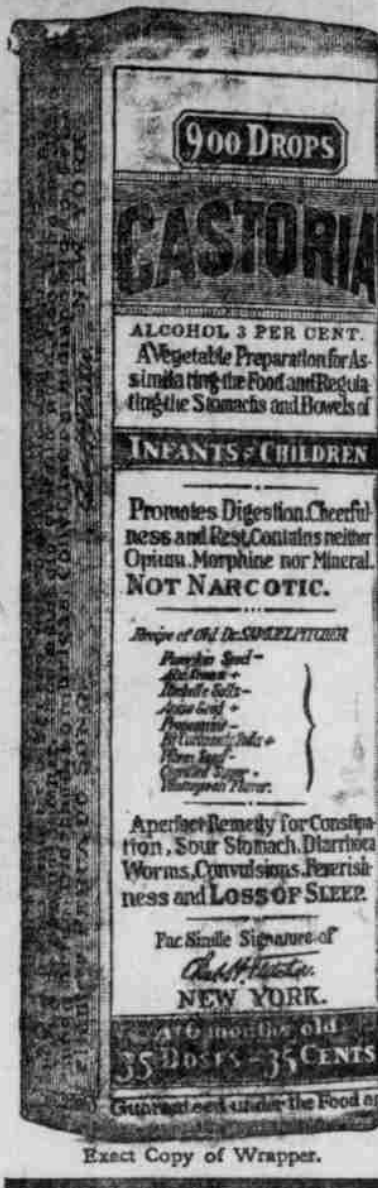

For four minutes she experienced the sensation of soaring in the air, some times as high as sixty feet above the ground. This was the first time a woman had made an ascension in a heavier-than-air machine in the United States, the Wright brothers having resisted a multitude of feminine importunities for aerial excursions.

"Oh," exclaimed Mrs. Van De Man when she returned to the ground, "now I know what makes the birds sing."

Lieutenants Lahm and Humphreys had so far progressed with their mastery of the government's aeroplane today that just before the closing of the afternoon's work Wilbur Wright stepped to the rear and allowed the two officers to oversee all details in the management of the machine prior to their ascension. He practically retired from the field, so that the officers might not share with him the credit for the flight they were about to take. They made a successful ascension, but after being in the air thirty-one minutes the machine descended rather suddenly in a remote part of the field. One of the supporting wires had given away and upon hearing it snap the officers had promptly pulled the lever to make a landing. The damage was trifling.

His pupils have progressed so far that Mr. Wright today announced his intention of abandoning them for several days, allowing them to use the aeroplane at their discretion. The flights will continue here as usual.

Five flights were made today. During the afternoon Mr. Wright took Capt. Charles De Forest Chandler of the signal corps on a flight of six and one-half minutes, this being the

WOULD TRADE BOYS.

Way in Which Farmer Offered to Settle When Laid Lost His Foot.

Before Judge George W. Wheeler and a jury in the superior court at Winsted Tuesday two damage suits, one for $3,000 and the other for $2,000, came up for trial. The plaintiffs in the actions are Warren W. and George W. Jones, son and father, and the defendant is E. H. Stedman, all Parkhamsted parties. On July 11th, 1908, when Warren Jones was nine years and three months of age, he was in a hayloft playing with two of Stedman's children. Stedman, who was running a mowing machine, according to the plaintiffs' evidence, called to them to get a whip for him. They all got whips, and when Stedman came around near them he asked Warren Jones to bring him the one he had. The boy ran up with the whip and, in turning, the cutting bar of the mowing machine caught his right leg and cut it off near the ankle, leaving the foot hanging by only the back cord. The boy was removed to the Litchfield county hospital at Winsted. In addition to a bill of $57 for hospital services, Jones said he had paid $101.55 for an artificial leg and that a new leg would have to be procured every eighteen months. When he had asked Stedman if he was not willing to do something for Warren Jones, the defendant told the parents that he would trade one of his boys for Warren, who had suffered the accident.
